A (very) brief look at Haml

Ham! !=

Ham1 ==

Haml == HTML + Backspace +

Contrived Example:

```
<html>
  <head>
    <title>StaticMatic</title>
  </head>
  <body>

      <h1>StaticMatic - Haml Everywhere</h1>

      My Site
      Welcome to my site!

  </body>
</html>
```

```
%html
```

```
  %head
```

```
    %title StaticMatic
```

```
  %body
```

```
    #header
```

```
      %h1 StaticMatic - Haml Everywhere
```

```
    #content
```

```
      .title My Site
```

```
      %p Welcome to my site!
```

./script/plugin install <http://svn.hamptoncatlin.com/haml/tags/stable>

gem install haml

StaticMatic

Bringing Haml to static websites

StaticMatic Site Lifecycle:

Setup site

Code templates using live preview server

Build site when complete

Demo

Is this not a bit old school?

<http://staticmatic.rubyforge.org>

```
gem install staticmatic
```
